WELCOME

Welcome to the Centenary University Annual Scholarship Event!

This has been an extraordinary year at the University. Through your generous contributions to Centenary Now: The Campaign for College & Opportunity for Everyone, we have provided scholarship support to grateful students, launched innovative academic programs, and strengthened Centenary's brand recognition—in New Jersey and around the world!

As you know, many Centenary students need an additional $5,000 or less in scholarship support to graduate. The goal of tonight's event is to raise funds to ensure that no Centenary student drops out of college for financial reasons.

In addition to raising money for our students, tonight we will honor some extraordinary friends of Centenary with the Gold Dome Award, the University's highest honor:

- Michael Lavery HA '12, a former member of the Centenary University Board of Trustees, former Mayor of Hackettstown and Founding Member and current attorney at Lavery, Selvaggi & Cohen. Michael has made significant and lasting contributions to Centenary University throughout his tenure. We applaud his innovative thinking and unwavering dedication to the success of our students and the advancement of the university.
- Dr. Tal Ben-Shahar, an internationally renowned teacher and author in the fields of happiness and leadership. Tal is the director of the world's first MA in Happiness Studies at Centenary University, which graduated its first class in 2024.
- Erbach Communications Group, a strategic partner for more than 25 years, plays a crucial role in Centenary University's outreach. They excel at crafting compelling narratives that resonate with media and prospective donors, significantly boosting our press coverage and consistently aiding in the growth of University contributions.

I am grateful that you have joined us tonight in celebrating these exceptional people, as well as our students. Thanks to you, many more Centenary students will be able to graduate on time and succeed in life after college. Enjoy this special celebration of Centenary!

Dale Caldwell, Ed.D.
President

Mr. Lavery is currently the Township Attorney for Parsippany-Troy Hills, Lopatcong, Mansfield, Oxford, Greenwich and Washington (Warren County) Townships, the Chester Board of Adjustment, and the Upper Delaware Soil Conservation District. Located in Lyndhurst, NJ, the firm executes strategies that bring a fresh perspective to the language, look, and feel of each client's brand, and then integrates those strategies across multiple platforms to engage constituents and generate measurable results.

ECG has partnered with Centenary University for more than 25 years, most recently on initiatives including media relations, alumni publications, and fundraising campaigns.

For Centenary, the focus is on compelling storytelling to persuade media and prospective donors to engage with the University. This multi-year initiative has resulted in a significant increase in press coverage, as well as a gradual rise in the number of donors and contributions to Centenary.

Under the leadership of President Kristen Volkland, ECG has earned recognition for its work on behalf of clients from a host of professional organizations. The firm is a member of the New Jersey Business and Industry Association, Small Business Association, Women Owned SBA, and National Women Business Owners Corporation.

At Centenary University's chapter of Enactus, we are a project-based course and organization that helps solve community and global issues. Each of our projects develops, funds and implements solutions to different social, cultural, and environmental issues. Centenary Enactus also has a nationally ranked and globally recognized presentation team, who present our projects annually at Enactus USA National Exposition.

Van Winkle Achievement Award

Rochelle Makela-Goodman '97 exemplifies the spirit of the Van Winkle Award through her remarkable career in fundraising and philanthropy, her steadfast dedication to Centenary University, and her broad impact on both higher education and the communities she serves.

With more than two decades of leadership at institutions like Princeton and Lehigh, Rochelle has transformed development programs, led national conversations in planned giving, and earned distinguished recognition for her innovation and impact.

Her service to Centenary is equally inspiring. She served on the Centenary Board of Trustees for 16 years, the last five as Board Chair, and has been a member of the Centenary President's Advisory Council and several ad hoc committees and task forces. She is an alumna of Centenary and a proud member of the Centenary Society and the Whitney Society (recognizing individuals who have included Centenary in their estate plans). Beyond her professional accomplishments, Rochelle's passion for volunteerism, her pursuit of lifelong learning, and her deep commitment to community service represent the very best of what this award seeks to honor.
