CENTENARY COLLEGE

Centenary College Today

Centenary is a true college in the sense that liberal learning is an integral part of its academic philosophy for both its undergraduate and graduate programs. Centenary's programs, especially at the undergraduate level, are designed to provide students with an ideal blend of career preparation options and a solid liberal arts foundation. Centenary is an independent college offering bachelor degree programs and associate degree programs in the liberal arts and career areas; and master degree programs in business administration, counseling, counseling psychology, school counseling, education, leadership and public administration, and special education. Complementing the academic program at the undergraduate level is an advising program that matches students with faculty members on a one-on-one basis, career planning and placement, and internship opportunities related to a student's major. The total growth of the student, both undergraduate and graduate, is taken into account in planning the Centenary College experience. Specifically, for the undergraduate, the offerings of WNTI, Centenary TV, and the Centenary Performing Arts Guild and other arts organizations add an important cultural dimension to student life. Centenary College offers a variety of extracurricular activities including intercollegiate and intramural sports, clubs and organizations to meet many interests, and social activities round out the undergraduate student life. Centenary College adheres to the values of Student-Centered Learning and Unparalleled Service.

An Historical Note

Centenary College has been related since its founding to the Methodist Church. The name chosen for the College in 1867 commemorated the centennial of the beginning of Methodism in the United States. Today, Centenary, as an independent, baccalaureate and masters level institution, proudly continues its relationship with the United Methodist Church and enjoys a student body rich in diversity in religious and ethnic backgrounds.

Centenary College throughout its history has always been ready to adapt to meet the changing needs of its students. Founded in 1867 as the Centenary Collegiate Institute, a coeducational preparatory school, in 1910 it became a preparatory school for girls. Later, junior college courses were offered and in 1940 Centenary Junior College was formed. Centenary College became a four-year institution for women, granting associate and baccalaureate degrees, in 1976. In the same year, Centenary's coeducational Continuing Studies Department was created, offering men the opportunity to pursue degrees at Centenary in the evening and significantly expanding the ability of the College to serve the citizens of Northwest New Jersey. This growth in adult education led to the College's creation of the Center for Adult and Professional Studies (CAPS), and accelerated degree program for the working adult whose schedule prevents him/her from attending a more traditional schedule.

In 1988 Centenary admitted men and women to all full-time and part-time programs, returning to its original role as a coeducational institution. Originally men were only admitted as commuter students. By the fall of 1989, residence facilities for men became available, allowing men to participate in the College's full residential programs. In 1992, the College established the Office of International Programs to coordinate recruitment of international students for study at Centenary, and to develop opportunities for our students to study abroad. These efforts have greatly enhanced diversity at the College.

By the fall of 1995, Centenary College introduced its first master degree program – Master of Arts (MA) in Education: Instructional Leadership. Since then Centenary has added a Master of Arts (MA) in Special Education, a Master of Arts (MA) in Counseling, Counseling Psychology, or School Counseling, a Master of Business Administration (MBA), a Master of Arts (MA) in English Literature (deactivated effective July 2011), a Master of Arts (MA) in Leadership and Public Administration, a Master of Arts (MA) in Education: Educational Leadership, and an online Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Educational Practice. All of the graduate programs are coeducational.

Centenary College's Setting

Centenary's attractive 42-acre campus is located in a pleasant, residential area of Hackettstown, a community of 16,000 people in Northwest New Jersey. The College's 65-acre equestrian center is located eight miles from the main campus on scenic Schooley's Mountain. Nearby, in town or at shopping malls, are most of the shops, services, and conveniences to meet students' personal needs. Hackettstown is also close to interstate highways, providing access to major metropolitan areas such as New York City, which is just an hour away. For recreation such as skiing or boating, the scenic Pocono Mountains are less than 30 minutes from campus, and the New Jersey Shore and its many beaches are within an easy drive.

Vision Statement

Working with area businesses, institutions, and school systems, Centenary College and its graduates are, and will continue to be, key resources for regional economic and educational development, and for recreational and artistic initiatives to enrich the surrounding communities. Centenary College is committed to enlarging its presence in the immediate and expanded geographic region through its quality undergraduate and graduate programs, and by becoming:

1. A model for personalized, individually focused education;
2. An innovator in the integration of a quality liberal arts education with career preparation;
3. A standard-bearer in internationalizing its campus and its programs;
4. A pioneer in developing and implementing community service initiatives;
5. An acknowledged leader with its contemporary Career, Business, and Education technology centers and with an Equestrian Studies program second to none.

Mission Statement

Centenary College is a community of learners distinguished by a diverse student body, a dedicated faculty and staff, and stimulating educational opportunities. Centenary College is committed to a quality liberal arts and career studies education with a substantial international dimension to engage students in learning and prepare them for satisfying careers, successful lives, community service and lifelong intellectual pursuits. As the primary educational and cultural resource for Northwest New Jersey, Centenary offers a range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs as well as non-degree courses for professional and personal development.

Campus Ministry

The Campus Ministry program at Centenary is designed to work with all students regardless of their religious background. The program emphasizes cultural pluralism in an interfaith context. This program coordinates all Centenary ministry activities as well as provides students with off-campus activity information, including information on local places of worship.

Centenary College's Faculty

Students discover that Centenary professors are, above all, dedicated teachers. Full professors, department chairpersons, as well as newer faculty members, all teach classes and advise students on an individual basis. Classes are small (the average size is 17 students) and the student-to-faculty ratio is a very desirable 17:1. Although Centenary faculty members are accomplished professionals in their fields, it is their skill as teachers which is paramount and which plays an important role in the success of their students. They have come to Centenary because they want to teach, and they enjoy direct contact with students on a day-to-day basis.

Library/Learning Resource Center

The Taylor Memorial Learning Resource Center houses significant print and audiovisual collections which are searchable using the library's online catalog. A wide range of databases as well as e-books, audio books, and video material can be accessed on the library's website. The library also has a number of public access computers and provides loaner laptops for students. Materials not currently available from the college's library can be borrowed through inter-library loan. The library provides 24 hours/day, 7 days/week reference service via Q&ANJ. The library staff is trained in research techniques and is always available to assist students.

Counseling Center

Centenary College offers all students the opportunity to participate in individual counseling with a professional counselor. Group counseling is also offered as needed. Whether students are having difficulty adjusting to college or experiencing uncertainty or lack of direction in certain aspects of their life, counseling can help them develop decision making skills that can be helpful. The Counseling Center is actively involved in many facets of campus life, including the Residence Life Program, the Fresh Start Program, New Student Orientation, and faculty and staff and student education in the area of mental health issues. Educational programs dealing with such topics as Wellness, Eating Disorders, Issues of Diversity, Substance Abuse, and Dating Violence are sponsored by the counseling department on an ongoing basis. Counseling services are available without charge and all sessions are strictly confidential. Referrals may be made to professionals or agencies in the community for long-term counseling. Ethical standards of the American Psychological Association and the National Association of Social Workers are strictly maintained.

Food Service

Centenary's food services are contracted out to Chartwells, Inc. Chartwells runs the cafeteria service, a coffee bar that is located on the west side of the Seay Building overlooking the Quad, and on-campus catering. The Dining Hall is located in the David and Carol Lackland Center. Resident students are required to participate in the meal plan. Guests will be admitted only with a meal ticket. Traditional full-time undergraduate commuter students are welcome to eat five meals per week in the Dining Hall. Please check the "Student Handbook" for hours and rules for the College's dining services.

Health Services

Good health, which includes physical, emotional, and social well-being, is an essential ingredient for the academic success of all students. Maintenance of good health through prevention, education, and treatment of illness is the primary goal of the Health Services Office. To accomplish this goal, the Health Services Office must have an accurate and complete set of health forms on file prior to admission. In addition, the Health Services Office prepares students to be informed health care consumers. The Health Services Office is located on the third floor of the Seay Building. It is staffed by two Registered Nurses certified in college health, one full-time and one part-time. The College physician is on campus twice a week and referral to outside resources and agencies is provided when necessary. All services are confidential.

Security

Centenary strives to ensure a safe, secure campus environment. Information regarding campus crime statistics is available through the Student Affairs Office. Centenary security personnel are on duty twenty-four hours, seven days per week. Security officers conduct safety tours and routine checks. An escort service is available by calling Security through the operator with your name and location. The Campus Life on-duty staff may be reached for assistance at any time by dialing 0. Please check the "Student Handbook" for additional information and policies regarding safety and security on- and off-campus.

Women's Center

The Northwest New Jersey Regional Women's Center at Centenary College was established by the N.J. State Legislature in 1987 to provide educational and counseling services to women and their families in Northwest New Jersey. The goal of the Women's Center is to furnish students, staff and community with a variety of well-informed assistance to enhance decision-making skills. Our legal, counseling, career and financial clinics provide short-term, one-on-one guidance with area and campus professionals. We also offer a range of educational programs and services, featuring an extensive Women's History Month celebration and the sponsorship of Centenary student applicants to the National Women as Leaders seminar in Washington, D.C. Our workshops, programs and services are usually free to Centenary students.

Career Center

The goal of the Career Center is to assist students in connecting academic, co-curricular, and vocational experiences in a meaningful way, leading to successful career employment following graduation. Students should begin using the Career Center in their freshman year. Exploration of personal and work values, interests, skills and personality can be done through a variety of methods. This helps students confirm a major, select a career field, or develop employability skills throughout their time at Centenary. There are assessment tools and an extensive career library for investigation. Professional career counselors are available for individual appointments, to interpret career assessment results, assist with job search correspondence, and do mock interviews. The Center maintains a wide variety of job listings (full-time, part-time, summer positions) from throughout the local and regional area. Also campus Work-Study assignments are obtained here. There are numerous workshops during the academic year to help students fine tune their job search and on-the-job maintenance skills. The Career Center also helps students obtain Internship assignments. These semester-long work experiences are for academic credit. Sophomores, juniors and seniors with a minimum GPA of 2.5 who have completed a minimum of 40 college credits may explore a career field, gain valuable work experience, and often receive a salary. Students can build a valuable network of information and contacts to use in their first job search, a career change, or pursuing graduate school information. Career and life planning are a part of every student's experience at Centenary College.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Centenary College is committed to full academic participation for persons with disabilities. It is the policy that no qualified person will be excluded from participating in any college program or activity or otherwise be subjected to discrimination with regard to any college program or activity. This policy derives from the commitment to non-discrimination for all persons in employment, access to facilities, student programs, activities, and services. Achieving full participation and integration of people with disabilities requires the cooperative efforts of all departments, offices and personnel. To this end, Centenary College continues to strive to achieve excellence in its services and to assure that its services are delivered equitably and efficiently to all members of its campus community. Assurance of equal academic participation rests upon legal foundations established by federal law, specifically the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 including Section 504, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. By federal law, a person with a disability is any person who: 1. has a physical or mental impairment; 2. has a record of such impairment; 3. is regarded as having such an impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities such as self-care, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, or learning. Any student who has a disability is encouraged to identify him/herself and seek assistance through the Disabilities Services Office.

The Disabilities Services Office

In accordance with federal mandates, Centenary College provides reasonable accommodations and ensures accessibility for all students with disabilities through its Disabilities Services Office (DSO), located in the Harris and Betts Smith Learning Center. We recognize and challenge the potential of every student. Therefore, the mission of our Disabilities Services Office is to provide students with disabilities the necessary tools, reasonable accommodations and support services to participate fully in the academic environment. The staff assists each student to help maximize their potential for success while promoting self-awareness, independence and self-advocacy. Our staff works closely with eligible students to afford each individual equal access to employment, educational opportunities, activities and programs.

What Services are Available?

Services are determined on an individual basis and may include, among others, arranging for academic accommodations such as access to classrooms or extended time testing, provision of note-takers, academic counseling, and/or arranging for auxiliary aides such as books in audio format and specialized computer equipment and software.

Determining Eligibility for Services

Prior to the provision of accommodations and related services, students must self-identify and provide appropriate documentation to the Director of Disability Services. Depending on the nature of the disability and the accommodation requested, the amount of advanced notice may impact upon the college's ability to provide reasonable accommodations in a timely fashion. For this reason, students are encouraged to arrange for accommodations at the beginning of each semester.

Office of International Programs

The Office of International Programs, located in the Engelhard Corporation International Center in Smith Hall, serves as a connecting point to meet the needs of international students who enroll in the graduate programs at Centenary College. The Office of International Programs assists students in establishing and maintaining their legal status as international students in the United States in compliance with the regulations of the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (formerly Immigration and Naturalization Services); organizes free professional and peer tutoring for international students in all subjects; offers cross-cultural counseling and support in academic and social matters for individuals and small groups; assists students in making arrangements for banking, driver's licenses, and Social Security identification; coordinates the College-wide voluntary Conversation Partners Program; guides students to internships and community service opportunities; provides academic advising and registration assistance to all international students; serves as a liaison, as needed, between international students and administrative and academic departments of the College; and supports and promotes the activities of Centenary Alumni Association chapters abroad.

Accreditation

Centenary College is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE), and the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC). Centenary College's Department of Business Administration has the following degree programs accredited by IACBE: Master of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting, and the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration with concentrations in Finance, Management, Marketing, and Sports Management. Centenary College's Education Department has the following programs accredited by TEAC: the Undergraduate Teacher Certification Programs and the Master of Arts in Special Education. The Bachelor of Social Work Degree is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). Business

The Master of Business Administration is designed to provide graduates with the skills needed to function in upper-management positions, critically analyze an organization's performance, use technology in problem solving and communication, understand and appreciate the legal and cultural realm of the workplace, and understand and appreciate the global business environment.

Counseling and Psychology

The Master of Arts in Counseling is designed to provide graduates with fundamental competencies in the theory and practice of counseling.

The Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology is designed to promote student appreciation for the role of the professional counselor, develop a thorough understanding of the theory and practice of counseling, and acquire mastery of the skills inherent to the profession. Students completing this program acquire the academic preparation that is prerequisite for completion of the National Counselor Examination and the academic qualifying criteria for the New Jersey Professional Counselor licensure.

The Master of Arts in School Counseling is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills commonly used by school counselors. This program certifies the student to be a New Jersey School Counselor.

Education

The Master of Arts in Education: Educational Leadership is designed to prepare educators for leadership roles in the public schools. The program will assist students in developing a thorough understanding of the theory and practice of educational leadership, developing the skills necessary to function as an educational leader and to support effective teaching and learning, acquiring the necessary evaluative skills to critically analyze a learning organization's performance, understanding the uses of technology in education and the skills to use educational technology effectively, developing an appreciation of the legal, cultural and ethical issues that influence the nation's educational institutions, and developing educational leaders at the K-12 level who are qualified for certification as school building administrators (principals).

Supervisor Licensure prepares students for department supervision. To receive the supervisor's licensure, the State of New Jersey requires that an individual earns a master's degree and incorporate the following courses into, or take them in addition to, that master's degree. Therefore, students without a master's degree, who would like to earn their supervisor's licensure, can complete the Master of Arts in Education: Instructional Leadership and incorporate these courses into their course of study. Students already holding a masters degree and teaching certification can decide to take the four required courses to obtain their supervisor licensure.

The Master of Arts in Education: Instructional Leadership is designed to enhance the competencies, knowledge, and skills of educational professionals in the areas of design, implementation, practice, and assessment of instructional programs. Furthermore, the program is designed to equip professional educators with the skills necessary to become master teachers and instructional leaders in their institutions and/or organizations, thus enabling them to return to their institutions and/or organizations as master classroom instructors as well as facilitators, advocates, and evaluators of instructional programs.

Master of Education in Educational Practice is a unique and innovative online graduate program, specifically designed to meet the distinctive needs of the K-12 school teacher – preparing them to address the challenges of the 21st century classroom. The M. Ed. in Educational Practice program is comprised of twelve courses, totaling 36 credits. Understanding the busy lives of professional educators, the courses are scheduled to coordinate with the public school calendar. Technology will be effectively integrated within the program experience through Internet-based discussion forums, e-mail, video conferencing and other appropriate online applications. Ultimately, this experience will serve to provide instruction and educational leadership that will best align to the critical needs of the 21st century learner. The program is based on a cohort of students that progress through the program together. As a member of a cohort, students will work with teachers in a collaborative way. All classes are online, asynchronous, and accelerated, providing the flexibility to juggle the demands of teaching, extra-curricular responsibilities, mandated professional development, and family life. The learning outcomes are achieved through course work and learning experiences that are cohort based. Courses are designed around authentic project based activities, action research, and reflective practices. Each course has activities, strategies, and techniques that are immediately applicable to your classroom. As a result, you will be able to comfortably achieve your personal professional goals in a flexible, convenient, and practical online environment.

The Master of Arts in Special Education is designed to provide its students with the ability to understand and embrace diversity and to become leaders who guide others toward change in creating a learning environment in which all individuals are allowed and encouraged to maximize their potential.

Teacher of Students with Disabilities Certification is designed to comply with the New Jersey State Code and the Council for Exceptional Children Standards. Students seeking Teacher of Students with Disabilities Certification on the graduate level must already poses a B.A. in an academic area and hold a general education certification in either: Elementary, Middle or Subject Area Certification. The program consists of seven three-credit courses.

Leadership and Public Administration

The Master of Arts in Leadership and Public Administration is designed to provide baccalaureate-level students with a means to continue to develop their careers in public service. The program will assist the student in developing the advanced management and administrative skills necessary to function in managerial positions in the public sector, acquiring the necessary skills to perform as leaders and managers in the public sector, developing an understanding of current personnel administration methodologies, and acquiring an understanding of the processes of and the need for organizational change.

GENERAL GRADUATE STUDIES POLICIES

ADMISSIONS INFORMATION

Admission Requirements

Centenary College seeks to provide students with the ability to demonstrate True Learning, Global Citizenship, Service Leadership & Team Building and a Values-Centered Life. Therefore, the College considers students for admission on the basis of their ability to successfully complete the academic curriculum while upholding the above core values and contributing positively to the broader academic community.

All candidates for admission must have successfully completed an undergraduate degree in the appropriate discipline or completed course work providing appropriate preparation for graduate studies in their chosen field. The specific admission requirements for each graduate program of study are delineated under the respective program's description.

International Student Admissions

International students must meet the admission requirements for the specific program of study to which they are applying, and must additionally provide:

1. Certification of English proficiency – official TOEFL, IELTS, or PTE examination results.
2. English translations of all college transcripts through the World Education Services (WES).
3. Certification of Finances Form.
4. Documentation of appropriate health and accident insurance.

(Note: For more complete information, international students should contact the Office of International Programs.

No admission decision will be made until all steps in the application procedure have been completed. Applications and all associated information should be addressed to: The Office of Graduate Programs, Centenary College, 400 Jefferson Street, Hackettstown, NJ 07840.

Transfer Admissions

Upon application and before admission to the graduate programs, students may request transfer of up to six credits for the MA in Education: Instructional Leadership, MA in Education: Educational Leadership, MA in Special Education, M.Ed. in Educational Practice, MA in Leadership and Public Administration, and Master of Business Administration, and up to twelve credits for the MA in Counseling, MA in Counseling Psychology, and MA in School Counseling. All credits eligible for transfer must come from a regionally accredited graduate program and have been earned with six years of the date of credit transfer approval. All credits in transfer must be approved by the Director of the graduate program in which the student is enrolling and must be determined at the time of the student's initial enrollment. Courses accepted in transfer must be similar to required or elective courses offered by Centenary College.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Financial Aid

Various departments and agencies of the federal government offer programs of aid for graduate students. Centenary College provides information and confidential counseling related to financial aid programs. Anyone seeking financial assistance must submit the "Free Application for Federal Student Tuition Aid" (FAFSA). Priority is given to graduate students who have filed by the priority deadline of April 15th. By appointment, the staff of the Financial Aid Office will assist students and provide counseling to students and families. When completing the FAFSA, enter the Centenary College Title IV number, 002599. Centenary College administers Federal, State, and institutional financial aid to all eligible students without regard to gender, race, color, handicap, age, and national or ethnic origin.

The Financial Aid Office measures academic progress at the end of each academic year for aid eligibility the following academic year. Students who are denied eligibility for financial aid based on their failure to maintain satisfactory academic progress have the right to an appeal. All appeals must be submitted in writing to the Director for Financial Aid. Should a student withdraw from all courses (officially or unofficially) in a semester, their aid will be adjusted according to Federal and State regulations. Tuition and charges will be adjusted according to the institution's refund policy posted in the Centenary College Catalog. Withdrawal could impact aid that has been awarded for tuition and living expenses. To initiate a withdrawal, a "Withdrawal Form" must be completed in the Office of Student Engagement.

Veterans Benefits

Educational benefits may be available to eligible veterans and children or spouses of deceased or permanently disabled veterans. Students who believe that they are eligible for such benefits should contact the Coordinator of Veterans Benefits in the College's Academic Success Center.

Refund Policies

The following is a summary of Centenary College's refund policies with regards to tuition, room and board, and fees. This policy is used to determine the adjusted costs the student is obligated to pay the College after the percentage to be refunded has been applied. This policy is not to be confused with Federal and State regulations regarding the return of Federal and state aid funds when a student receiving Federal and state financial aid withdraws. (Federal and State aid includes all aid identified on a student's financial aid award as a Federal or state scholarship, grant and/or loan.) A separate calculation, to determine the aid that must be returned, if any, is done according to Federal and state regulations. However, the percentage of funds that must be returned, as prescribed by the regulations, may not match the percentage used to determine costs. This may then create a balance owed by the student to the college above any prior unpaid balance or a balance due on federal grants that must be repaid directly to the federal government. For detailed information or examples of the application of these policies, please contact the Business Office.

Institutional Refund Policy for Graduate Program Students for the Fall and Spring Semesters*

Refunds of semester charges will be made in accordance with the following schedule:

Withdrawal prior to the 1st day of semester classes	...	100%
Withdrawal during the 1st week of classes	...	75%
Withdrawal during the 2nd week of classes	...	50%
Withdrawal during the 3rd week of classes	...	25%
Withdrawal after the 3rd week of classes	...	0%

The date used to calculate the specific period of enrollment shall be the date on which the student notifies the Registrar's Office, in writing on an Add/Drop Form, of his/her intent to withdraw or take a leave of absence from the College. The written notification date, not class attendance, is used to determine refund percentage. Refunds will be made in accordance with any federal and/or state loan or grant program regulations.

Institutional Refund Policy - Summer Sessions - All Students*

Refund of Summer Session charges will be made in accordance with the following schedule:

Withdrawal prior to the 1st day of summer session classes	...	100%
Withdrawal during the 1st week of classes	...	75%
Withdrawal during the 2nd week of classes	...	50%
Withdrawal after the 2nd week of classes	...	0%

The date used to calculate the specific period of enrollment shall be the date on which the student notifies the Registrar's Office, in writing on an Add/Drop Form, of his/her intent to withdraw or take a leave of absence from the College. The written notification date, not class attendance, is used to determine refund percentage. Refunds will be made in accordance with any federal and/or state loan or grant program regulations.

Institutional Refund Policy for On-ground and Online Accelerated Graduate Programs

Refund of a course's charges will be made in accordance with the following schedule:

Withdrawal prior to the start date of the course/session	...	100%
Withdrawal during the first week of the course/session	...	75%
Withdrawal during the second week of the course/session	...	50%
Withdrawal after the end of the second week of the course/session	...	0%

The date used to calculate the specific period of enrollment shall be the date on which the student notifies the Registrar's Office or the Online/Graduate Office, in writing on a Drop Form, of his/her intent to withdraw or take a leave of absence from the college or the course. Refunds will be made in accordance with any federal and/or state loan or grant program regulations as applicable.

Note: *Due to new regulations regarding the return of Federal and State funds, any student receiving Federal/State grants or loans should contact the Financial Aid Office (extension 2350) before withdrawing or taking a leave of absence.

Payment of Bills

All financial obligations to the College must be paid at the beginning of each semester. Payment must be made in full, with monthly payments through Tuition Management Services (TMS), and/or Financial Aid sufficient to cover the cost of the semester. Any account not meeting the mentioned payment criteria will be considered Past Due and be charged a Late Payment Fee. Past due accounts will prevent a student from registering for the next semester. Also, no grade report or transcript will be issued to any student, and no person may participate in Commencement or receive a degree if all financial obligations owed the College have not been met. A student whose grade report is withheld due to an unmet financial obligation may view his/her grades, in person, in the Registrar's Office. The financial obligations include: tuition, room and board, and all other forms of indebtedness to the College such as special course fees, parking fines, library fines, and return of library books. Any financial obligations outstanding the semester after the one for which a student was billed may be submitted to an outside collection agency. The student will then be responsible for any collection costs and/or attorney's fees (30%-50% of the amount placed for collection). All checks should be made payable to Centenary College and not to any individual officer. Returned checks and ACH payments are subject to a service fee.

For the latest and most up-to-date information on tuition and fees, please contact the Business Office or visit www.centenarycollege.edu

GRADUATE ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Catalog

Students are governed by the catalog under which they were admitted. This applies to first-time students and readmitted students (the readmit date will determine the catalog). If a student feels that a subsequent catalog would provide them with an advantage, they may request of the Vice President for Academic Affairs to be moved under a more recent catalog. A student may not request to be governed by a previous, or older, catalog.

Academic Advising

Although Centenary College believes that all students are responsible for their own education, academic programs, and successful completion of program degree requirements, the Graduate Director of each specific graduate program is the designated academic advisor responsible for assisting students in making appropriate decisions about their academic programs and courses. Throughout their course of study, students are encouraged to meet often with their advisors, who monitor the student's academic progress, help the students clarify career goals and relate these to their academic goals, share and disseminate information, and advise students on college policies and degree requirements.

Registration

Students are expected to register for courses in the first semester following their acceptance. Requests to defer an acceptance date must be made in writing to the Office of Graduate Admissions. Centenary will not retain applications and supporting documents of those who do not register within a two-year period.

Students are expected to register for all courses by the published registration date. Registration forms may be obtained from the Registrar's Office, or graduate students may register online. Students who plan to continue their studies in the following semester are encouraged to register for courses during the early registration period specified in the academic calendar.

Course Changes and Withdrawals from a Course(s)

Adjustments (add/drop) to a graduate student's semester schedule of courses will be permitted through the second week of the semester, or by the day of the second class meeting for summer courses. To add/drop a course, students must complete an Add/Drop Form available in the Office of the Registrar. It is the responsibility of a student to submit this form with all requisite signatures on or before but no later than the deadline for schedule adjustments. A student will not be permitted to add a course after the end of the Add/Drop period.

If a graduate student just drops or withdraws from a course after the first day of the semester, the College's Official Refund Policy will be applied (see page XX for the Official Refund Policy). Graduate students who withdraw from a course or courses after the course(s) have met will have a grade of "W" (withdrew) posted on their transcripts. If a graduate student withdraws from a class or classes after the date posted on the Academic Calendars allowing for withdrawals, an automatic grade of "F" will be recorded. Remember, failure to attend any class or verbal notification to the instructor, faculty advisor, and/or Student Services does not constitute an official withdrawal. Failure to withdraw officially by following the above procedures may result in a permanent grade of "F" for the course(s).

Semester Course Loads

By definition, a graduate student registered for 9 credit hours is considered a full-time graduate student. No more than 12 Graduate Studies credit hours may be taken in a given semester. Graduate students who carry less than 9 semester credit hours per term are classified as part-time. The normal course load for a part-time graduate students is 3 to 6 credit hours per semester.

Academic Standing

For more details on a specific program's definition of good academic standing students are asked to refer to each programs specific policies.

Grading Policy for Graduate Studies

Graduate students enrolled in a master degree program must maintain good academic standing to continue in their respective program of study. Graduate students are required to have a GPA of 3.0 in order to receive a degree. The academic standing and grading policy for each graduate program is listed under that department. A graduate student who has received a grade of C may appeal to the Academic Review Board to request a determination of eligibility to repeat the course. (The student is not required to make such an appeal; however, in some cases, it will be necessary for a student to raise the grade for certification or licensure requirements, or to obtain the 3.0 GPA necessary for graduation.) Decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis. No grades of D will be given (anything lower than a C- is an F). A grade of F will result in dismissal from the program. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is necessary for graduation.

If a student repeats a course in which a grade of C has been received, both the original grade and the repeated grade will count in the GPA. Both grades will also be used to determine eligibility to stay in or to be removed from the program.

Graduate Course Listing and Graduate GPA

All graduate courses for which a student registers (including repeated courses) are listed on the transcript and are used to calculate the student's grade point average whether or not they are taken to fulfill degree requirements.

Degree Completion

Graduate students must complete the degree within 7 years. If a student does not complete the degree within 7 years, s/he will need to reapply. Upon readmission, the student will be responsible for completing the program currently in effect. Where applicable, such as in the Education Department, state regulations must also be met.

Students who do not take courses for one year or more must also reapply. Upon readmission, the student will be responsible for completing the program currently in effect. Where applicable, such as in the Education Department, state regulations must also be met.

Graduate Grading System

The value of grades may generally be described as follows:

Letter Grade	Quality	Point Value
A	Excellent	4.0
A-		3.7
B+		3.3
B	Good	3.0
B-		2.7
C+		2.3
C	Average	2.0
C-		1.7
F	Failure	0.0
I	Incomplete	0.0
MD	Medical Withdrawal	0.0
W	Withdrawal	0.0

Pluses and minuses may be used in reporting grades and they are computed in the grade average. Their use is optional with the instructor.

Determination of Grades

Each instructor is responsible for determining the grading and examination policy for his/her class. This policy includes how the instructor arrives at the semester grade for each student, the proportion of grade given for papers, tests, hourly exams, semester examinations, or other requirements of his/her course. The instructor must provide a written copy of his/her policy, along with a course syllabus, to his/her class and he/she must file a copy of the policy with his/her Department Director of the Graduate Program, the Faculty Office, and the Academic Affairs Office. Once grades are posted in the Registrar's Office, they are considered final and cannot be changed by the instructor unless there was an error in the posting or calculation of a specific grade.

Calculation of Grade Point Average

Averages for all students are determined by the point scale as follows:

A	=	4.0	B-	=	2.7
A-	=	3.7	C+	=	2.3
B+	=	3.3	C	=	2.0
B	=	3.0	F	=	0.0

The average is computed by dividing the total number of credit hours attempted into the total number of quality points earned. Pass/Fail grades are not used in determining grade point averages.

Incomplete

An incomplete is not computed in the grade point average. When the course is completed, the cumulative average will be recalculated, replacing the "I" with the value for the grade received. A grade of "I" must be completed within two weeks of the start of the next semester; otherwise a permanent grade of "F" will be recorded for the course(s).

Independent Study

Graduate students may apply for independent study credit. A maximum of six graduate credits in independent study may be applied to a student's program. Independent study requests should be made to the Director of the Graduate Program under which the student is studying. Approval of requests for independent study will be determined by the rationale for the request, the student's academic standing, and the availability of faculty to conduct the independent study.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes. It is especially important for students to attend classes during the first week of each semester and to attend the scheduled class preceding or following a holiday (Thanksgiving, Christmas, Spring Holiday, etc.). A student who finds it necessary to be absent from class should, as a matter of courtesy, inform the instructor in advance of the absence. If absences occur, it is the student's responsibility to make up the work missed and to contact the instructor in regard to the missed work. Permission to make up any type of course assignments may be granted at the discretion of the instructor. Each faculty member is required to establish and monitor the attendance policy for each of the assigned courses he or she teaches. The attendance policy must be stated in the syllabus and distributed the first day of class, or stated on a separate attendance policy sheet and distributed the first day of class. An instructor may lower a student's grade due to excessive absences, because in many classes the student's presence and participation are important in completing the work of the class and achieving success in the course. In many instances, excessive absences will result in poor grades or failure.

Before withdrawing a student from a class due to absences, it is advisable for the instructor to notify the student. However, attending classes and monitoring the number of absences accumulated are the responsibility of the student.

Note: Online – In order to be considered present in an online classroom, students must log into and participate in the Learning Management System classroom a minimum of three days per week.

Grievance of a Grade

If a student has a grievance in regard to the misapplication of an instructor's grading policy for a course, he/she must comply with the following procedures: (1) the student first must make an appointment with the instructor in question to discuss the manner in which the grading policy was administered; (2) if still dissatisfied, the student must then make an appointment with the Department Chair to discuss the issue in an attempt to resolve the conflict; if the instructor in question is the Department Chairperson, then the student must make an appointment with the Vice President for Academic Affairs to discuss his/her concerns. 3) If still dissatisfied, the student then must file an appeal in writing with the Academic Review Board (ARB). The student must send a written explanation of his/her situation to the Dean of Students for Academic Support and request a hearing with the ARB, clearly stating the reason for the request, and provide, when appropriate, supporting documentation. Grade appeals will not be heard by the ARB unless they are based on misapplication or arbitrary application of an instructor's grading policy or unusual extenuating circumstances. All appeals must be filed no later than the last day of the tenth week of the semester immediately following the one in which the grievance occurred. Both the student and the instructor are required to attend the grievance hearing, if one is called. If the instructor is unable to attend, the department chair at his/her discretion may choose to attend instead. The department chair may also attend with the instructor if he/she chooses to do so.

Dismissal from the College

Any student who displays a systematic pattern of failure to maintain proper academic progress in one or more semesters, who is on probation for an academic semester, or who violates the College's "Academic Code of Conduct" may be academically dismissed from the College by the Academic Review Board. Dismissals from the College for academic reasons are noted on a student's transcript: "Academic Dismissal." Students who violate the College rules and regulations regarding social conduct may be suspended or dismissed by the Judicial Committee in accordance with procedures set forth in the College's Student Handbook.

Appeals of Dismissal

Any student who has been dismissed by the ARB may appeal in writing to the ARB. Letters requesting an appeal must be postmarked or received by the College on or before, but no later than, fifteen calendar days of the date on the letter of dismissal. Grounds for appeal may include technical error, changes in temporary grades, extenuating circumstances, and/or additional information not previously available to the committee. Letters of appeal must state the reason for appeal and, where possible, should be accompanied by appropriate documentation. The decision of the ARB is final. Students will be notified in writing within three weeks of the action taken. A second dismissal is final.

Readmission

After a one-year absence, students seeking readmission from a leave-of-absence or dismissal for academic reasons must reapply through the Graduate Admissions Office. The Graduate Admissions Office and the appropriate Graduate Director will review each application on a case-by-case basis. Readmission is not automatic and the decision is final.

Academic Code of Conduct

As an academic community, Centenary College endorses the pursuit of knowledge through open and honest discourse. Therefore, the College expects students to conduct themselves honestly in all academic activities. Any action which compromises this integrity or otherwise attempts to discredit the knowledge a student has acquired is inappropriate and unacceptable. Through continued participation in the academic code of conduct, students demonstrate respect for Centenary's commitment to academic excellence. It is the intent of the College faculty and trustees that each student acknowledges and adheres to the code. The following definitions of academic code violations encompass misrepresentations of fact and falsification of any portion of the academic process:

1. Plagiarism is knowingly copying published or unpublished material without acknowledging the source.
2. Duplicate course assignment is submitting the same assignment without the instructor's approval for more than one course, or submitting an assignment based on another student's work.
3. Collusion is working with one or more students without the approval of the instructor to complete a project that is expected to be the result of individual effort.
4. Unacceptable classroom conduct includes (a) disruptive and disrespectful behavior; (b) cheating during examinations and laboratory projects by sharing material, looking at another's work, use of unauthorized books, sources, or memory aids, and/or communicating verbally or non-verbally in order to attain assistance; (c) other types of inappropriate actions that impede the learning process.
5. Falsifying information is intentionally giving fraudulent information for the purpose of (a) avoiding negative sanctions; (b) seeking special privileges; (c) assisting another in these purposes.
6. Computer interference is causing damage to or disruption of on-line databases housed on campus, including piracy of copyrighted material and inappropriate duplication of computer disk information. Sanctions for the violation of the "Academic Code of Conduct" are determined by the instructor, but they are limited to academic sanctions pertaining to the course in question – e.g., resubmitting the assignment; grade reduction; failure of the course; etc. Recommendations for more severe sanctions are to be forwarded to the Academic Review Board. Students have the right to appeal sanctions to the Academic Review Board in compliance with the policies of Centenary College and the "Academic Code of Conduct." Copies of the "Academic Code of Conduct," in its entirety and with appeal procedures, may be secured from the Registrar's Office.

All students are expected to adhere to Centenary College's policy concerning Academic Honesty. Any student found cheating, plagiarizing, submitting non-original work, etc., will receive a grade of zero (0) for that work. Flagrant cases of academic dishonesty may result in the student's being dismissed from the class and referred to the Academic Review Board for further action or sanction as deemed appropriate, up to and including dismissal from Centenary College.

Individual instructors or departments may impose additional penalties. Check the syllabus for the policy that applies to each class.

Leaves of Absence

Leaves of absence are permitted under special circumstances with the permission of the Vice President for Student Engagement and the Chief Academic Officer. Please refer to the "Student Handbook" on the college's web site www.centenarycollege.edu for further details, or see the Vice President for Student Engagement.

Withdrawal from the College

Full-time students who deem it necessary to withdraw from the College at any time must go to the Office of Student Engagement for an exit interview and to complete the required documentation. A student who fails to complete this process and who does not report to the College will be administratively withdrawn from Centenary 45 days after the first day of classes of the semester for which the student was expected or when it is determined that the student will not be at the College, whichever is earlier. Proper reporting to the College requires check-in at the Student Billing Office to make sure satisfactory arrangements have been made to pay your term bill and the processing of official registration materials through the Registrar's Office. Failure to complete this process within seven days of the first day of classes of the semester for which a student is expected could result in automatic deregistration from classes for that semester and removal from the residence halls. The student may also be administratively withdrawn from the College if check-in procedures are not completed.

Transcripts

The College issues two types of transcripts – unofficial (given to the student) and official (issued directly to a college or an employer) upon written request of the student or alumni. The official transcript bears the College Seal. Requests for transcripts should be directed to the Registrar's Office. No transcript will be issued unless a student's final account has been paid in full. Students who request transcripts must pay a fee for each transcript requested.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy (FERPA) Statement (Fall 2008)

(While gender-neutral language is employed in this statement whenever possible, “she or “her” occasionally appear. They are used to avoid awkward locutions and are not intended to perpetuate gender stereotypes.)

I. Scope of the Act

(a) General.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is federal legislation that establishes guidelines governing the way educational institutions maintain and supervise student records. The Act requires the College to notify parents and students annually how it complies with the Act's requirements. The Act is intended to assure a student that he or she can:

1. Inspect and review her educational records
2. Request an amendment to her education records
3. Participate in a hearing if the request for an amendment is unsatisfactory.
4. Request that Centenary College does not disclose directory information about him or her.
5. File a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education.

The Act permits the release of records without the prior consent of the student to appropriate College personnel and to parents of a student who have established the student's status as a dependent. There are also other circumstances as set forth in the Act in which student information would be disclosed without the student's prior consent.

A student who wishes to allow another person access to her records should complete a 'FERPA Waiver' in the Office of the Vice President for Student Engagement. The Waiver will be in effect for the duration of a student's study at Centenary or until permission to disclose is revoked in writing by the student.

A parent wishing access to student records should have their son or daughter complete the 'FERPA Waiver.'

(b) Records Covered.

"Educational records" of a student include records, files, documents, and other materials regularly maintained by the College that contain information directly related to a student and that are maintained in connection with the student's attendance at the College.

There are a number of types of records that are specifically excluded from the scope of the Act. For example, a student is not entitled to examine the following:

1. Records maintained personally by faculty members that are not available to others.
2. Records maintained by Campus Safety that are not available to others outside that department.
3. Records that are created or maintained by a physician, psychologist, or other recognized professional or paraprofessional that are created, maintained, or used only in connection with the provision of treatment to the student and are not available to anyone other than persons providing such treatment. Thus, for example, a student does not have the right under FERPA to inspect records maintained by the College Health Service or the Counseling Center. Such records, however, can be personally reviewed by a physician or other appropriate professional of the student's choice, and a student may have a right to inspect such records under other laws.
4. Records, such as those that might be maintained by the College's legal counsel, the confidentiality of which is protected by law.
5. Records containing financial information about her parents, such as information submitted in connection with an application for financial aid.

II. Access Rights of Students

(a) Procedure.

A student may obtain access to her education records by making application to the Office of the Registrar. The College is required to grant the request within 45 days. The Registrar will forward copies of the student's request to the appropriate offices holding the requested files. These offices will contact the student and invite her to inspect them at either the Parsippany or Hackettstown campus.

(b) Confidential Letters of Recommendation.

In general, a student may have access to confidential letters and statements of recommendation that are part of the student's education records. This right, however, does not apply to such letters and statements placed in the student's education records prior to January 1, 1975, if such letters and statements are not used for purposes other than those for which they were specifically intended.

A student may, by signing a written waiver, relinquish her right to inspect confidential recommendations placed in the student's education records on or after January 1, 1975, respecting

1. admission to any educational institution;
2. an application for employment; or
3. the receipt of an honor or honorary recognition.

In no case will any student be required by the College to waive her rights to access of confidential recommendations. A student may find it appropriate to do so for a number of reasons. For example, the student may feel that her professors will write more candid and helpful letters of recommendation if the letters are not available to the student. A number of schools and departments have waiver forms available. A school or department desiring to formulate a waiver form should consult the General Counsel of the College.

(c) Copying.

A student will ordinarily not be provided with copies of any part of her record other than her transcript, unless the inability to obtain copies would effectively prevent her from exercising her right to inspect and review her education records. In cases where copies will be provided, the Office of the Registrar may impose a charge for making such copies at such uniform rates as it shall determine. In general, the charges imposed will not exceed $.10 per page. An exception is the case of transcripts, which are $4.

(d) Other Rights.

1. A student also has the right to be provided with a list of the types of educational records maintained by the College that relate to students. The College Registrar has compiled such a list and will, on request, make copies of this list available to any student to assist the student in determining those records to which she may want access. Generally, educational records of a current student will be maintained by the Office of Registrar, the Office of the Vice President for Student Engagement, the student's advisor or Learner Services Specialist and the Department of the student's major.

Academic Records of current students are also kept by the following offices if the student is currently a participant in that program:

- Educational Opportunity Fund Program
- Any program with students who have Declared Disabilities
- Athletics
- First-Year Program

In addition, the College Health Service and the Counseling Center maintain records relating to students who have utilized the services offered by those two departments. If a student has utilized the Career Development Office at the College, that office may also maintain records relating to the student.

2. A student may request that her records be amended to eliminate any information contained therein that she believes is inaccurate, misleading, or violates her privacy or other rights.
3. If the College decides to refuse to amend a student's records, she or she is entitled to a hearing to challenge the content of her educational records in order to insure that the records are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of her privacy or other rights. Normally, an informal hearing will suffice with an officer of the College who has authority to make changes in a student's records. If a student is dissatisfied with the results of such a hearing, the student should be referred to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
4. If, after a hearing, the College decides that the student's records are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of her privacy or other rights, the student has the right to place in her records a statement commenting upon the information and/or setting forth any reasons for disagreeing with the decision of the College

III. Access by or Release to Others

(a) General.

The College will not generally permit access to, or release of, educational records or personally identifiable information contained therein to any party without the written consent of the student. The College may, however, as provided in the Act, release such data to certain persons including:

1. Officials of the College who have a legitimate educational interest (including persons with whom the College has contracted) in obtaining access to the records. Such access will be granted if the official needs to review an educational record in order to fulfill her or her professional responsibility.
2. Persons who require access in connection with the student's application for, or receipt of, financial aid.
3. Parents of a student, provided the student is a "dependent" of the parents for federal income tax purposes. In general, the College does not initiate communication with a student's parents. Where the College believes that it is in a dependent student's interest, information from the student's educational records may be released to the parents of such a dependent student.
4. The College may release such information in compliance with a judicial order or pursuant to any lawfully issued subpoena. As a general policy, before any information is so released the College will first notify the student at the student's most recent address as shown in the records maintained by the Office of the Registrar. However, in compliance with the Act, some judicial orders and subpoenas issued for law enforcement purposes specify that the College cannot disclose to any person the existence or contents of the order or subpoena or the information furnished in compliance with it.

5. In connection with an emergency, the College may release information from educational records to appropriate persons if the knowledge of such information is necessary to protect the health or safety of a student or other persons.

(b) Release with the Student's Consent.

Upon written consent or request by a student, the College will release information from the student's educational records to third parties. The student should make a request for a one-time release through the Office of the Registrar. The College may impose a charge for copying a student's records in connection with such release.

(c) Transfer of Information to Third Parties.

It shall be a condition of the release by the College of any personal information on a student to a third party that the party to which the information is released will not permit any other party to have access to such information without the written consent of the student. An institution to which such information is released may permit its officers, employees, and agents to use such information but only for the purposes for which the disclosure was made. These restrictions do not apply to certain subpoenas and court orders.

(d) Directory Information.

The College may release "Directory Information" with respect to a student without the student's consent. The College is required to give notice of the categories of information that it will treat as "Directory Information."

Accordingly, the College hereby gives notice that it has designated the following categories of information as directory information with respect to each student:

- name,
- local and permanent address,
- electronic mail address,
- telephone listing;
- date and place of birth;
- major field of study; minor field(s) of study and concentrations (if any)
- campus at which a student is studying,
- learner status (Part-time, Full-time, Matriculated, Non-matriculated)
- participation in officially recognized activities and sports;
- weight and height of members in athletic teams;
- dates of attendance at Centenary and campus and department attended;
- degrees conferred, awards received, and their dates;
- other educational institutions attended

A student in attendance at the College who does not want to have directory information relating to himself or herself released should inquire at the Office of the Vice President for Student Engagement as to the procedures to be followed.

IV. General

1. You may view the Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act on the U.S. Department of Education Web site at www.ed.gov/offices/OII/fpco/ferpa.
2. Other than the Office of the Registrar, each office of the College that maintains educational records may offer access only to officials of the College who have a legitimate educational interest. The Office of the Registrar will keep with each student's file a permanent record of all parties who have requested access to the student's records, other than:
 - custodians of such files,

- College officials normally dealing with such files in performance of their duties,
 - College officials who have been determined to have a legitimate educational interest in obtaining access to the records,
 - parents of a "dependent" student,
 - parties who have received "directory information,"
 - parties who have received records or information pursuant to the student's written consent,
 - recipients of records or information pursuant to certain subpoenas and court orders.
- Such records of access should indicate specifically the legitimate interest that each such party had in obtaining access to the student's records and whether or not the request was granted. A student may inspect such records relating to her education records.
3. Questions about the interpretation of the Guidelines should be referred to the Vice President for Student Engagement who will gain an interpretation from Counsel.
 4. Complaints regarding violations of a student's rights under the Act may be filed with:

Degree Applications

All students who plan to graduate with a degree from Centenary are required to complete a Candidate for Degree Application Form in the Registrar's Office. This form must be completed a minimum of one semester prior to their anticipated graduation. Students should check the Academic Calendar for the exact deadline dates for filing.

Degree Requirements

Centenary College offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Social Work, Associate in Science, and Associate in Arts, Master of Arts, Master of Education, and Master of Business Administration. For specific program outlines, refer to the section outlining course offerings by degree program. While Centenary provides quality advising and keeps accurate records to assist the student, it is ultimately the student's responsibility to make certain that all degree requirements have been successfully met. Master's degree candidates must complete the requirements outlined in their respective program with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better.

Commencement

Centenary College awards degrees three times during the year: May, September, and January. There are two Commencement ceremonies, during the months of January and May as designated in the Academic Calendar. September and January graduates must participate in the January Commencement ceremony.

Candidates for any degree (Associate, Bachelor or Master) must have completed all of their degree requirements in order to participate in either the January or May Commencement ceremony.

To be eligible to participate in the Commencement ceremony all students must be in good academic standing. Any student who has not met his/her financial obligations to Centenary College in full, or who have not made satisfactory arrangements with the Business Office for payment, will be denied the privilege of participating in the Commencement ceremony.

Graduation applications must be completed and delivered to the Registrar's Office by the date specified in the Academic Calendar along with the graduation fee. Graduation applicants who do not meet the specified application date will be moved to the next graduation date following completion of the application and payment of the graduation fee.

Program Specific Graduate Studies Policies

Master of Business Administration – Traditional, Online, Accelerated, Online Accelerated

Purpose

The Master in Business Administration is designed to prepare students to successfully pursue leadership positions in business. The program builds on the strong reputation of Centenary's undergraduate degree program, focusing on the development and enhancement of the perspectives, knowledge, and skills required for a career in business. Students who complete the MBA program will develop the advanced skills necessary to function in an upper managerial position; acquire the necessary evaluative skills to critically analyze an organization's performance, utilize technology skills in problem solving and communication, develop an appreciation of the legal and cultural realm of the workplace, and demonstrate an understanding of the global business environment.

These areas of concentration emphasize the understanding and utilization of the latest technology as a way to evaluate performance and create management solutions. Critical thinking is vital to today's manager, and Centenary's MBA program strives to provide this to each student so that all graduates have the necessary evaluative skills to critically analyze an organization and understand the legal and cultural marketplace in which that organization functions.

The Centenary MBA Program is conscious of the unique learning experience that Master's level students undergo. Learning is truly a shared experience, and case courses worked in groups are a primary teaching methodology. That is why we strive to have a diverse body of business students, domestic and international, drawn from various industries such as Pharmaceutical, Financial, Consumer Products, Technical, Medical and Education. This diverse group not only allows for cross-fertilization of ideas and practices across various industries, but also provides students with a wonderful opportunity for networking future career moves.

Admission Requirements

- Completed application
- Bachelor's Degree
- Original transcripts from all colleges and universities attended
- Minimum GPA 2.5
- No GRE/GMAT required

In order to be successful in the MBA program, students should be capable of good oral and written communication skills as well as the ability to succeed in quantitatively oriented programs.

Program Requirements

Students are required to complete the six foundation courses, before moving on to the next five courses, which can be taken in any order. Upon successful completion of the following foundation courses, with a grade of B- or better in each course, students enrolled in the program will attain the status of "Candidate for the Degree of Master of Business Administration.” Students who fail to successfully complete these courses with a grade of B- or better will be dismissed from the program.

Required Master in Business Administration Foundation Courses – 18 credits

These six courses (18 credits) must be taken before moving on to the final six courses (18 credits)

Purpose

The program is specifically designed to meet the distinctive needs of the contemporary K-12 school teacher – preparing them to address the challenges of the 21st century classroom. The M.Ed in Educational Practice program is comprised of twelve courses, totaling 36 credits. Understanding the busy lives of professional educators, Centenary College has scheduled the M.Ed in Educational Practice to coordinate with the public school calendar. Your learning outcomes are achieved through course work and learning experiences that are cohort based. As a member of a cohort, you will work with teachers in a collaborative way. Courses are designed around authentic project based activities, action research, and reflective practices. Each course has activities, strategies, and techniques that are immediately applicable to your classroom. As a result, you will be able to comfortably achieve your personal professional goals in a flexible, convenient, and practical online environment. You will join in a cohort of students and progress through the program together. All classes are online, asynchronous and accelerated, providing you with the flexibility to juggle the demands of teaching, extra-curricular responsibilities, mandated professional development, and family life. You will also be provided with a friendly introduction to online learning, your fellow cohort members, and your instructor prior to the beginning of the first course. You may be surprised to learn how easy and how much fun it is to learn online.

Program Features

- Designed using best practices in online adult education for practicing teachers.
- Online classes which allow you to work at times and places convenient to your schedule.
- Cohort model, where the same group of students progress through the entire program together.
- Accelerated, eight-week courses, scheduled to fit within the K-12 school calendar.

Program Advantages

- Project-based activities, techniques, and strategies that you can immediately use in your classroom
- Small classes that strongly emphasize participation, interaction, and practical application in your classroom
- Highly relevant, accessible, and efficient program
- Highly qualified faculty
- Unsurpassed student service
- Opportunity to complete your degree no matter where you live, whatever hours you work, how often you travel or relocate
- Complete 100% of your education via the Internet, including all administration, registration, and book purchasing
- Tuition costs may be partially tax-deductible
- New Jersey Education Association (NJEA) members are entitled to a 25% reduced tuition for this program (discount programs cannot be combined).

Program Requirements

Students are required to successfully complete the following program of study comprised of twelve courses, totaling 36 credits:

Note: Students must achieve a grade of “B” or higher in each course. Students who do not achieve a “B” or higher in each course shall be dropped from the program. (See Centenary College Catalog for further explanation.)

Licensures

Supervisor Licensure – 12 Credits

The Supervisor's Licensure prepares students for department supervision. To receive the supervisor's licensure, the State of New Jersey requires an individual to earn a Master's degree and incorporate the following courses into, or take them in addition to, that Master's degree.

Therefore, students without a Master's degree, who would like to earn a supervisor's licensure, can complete the Master's in Instructional Leadership and incorporate these courses into their course of study.

Students already holding a Master's degree, and a teaching certificate, can decide to take the following additional four courses to obtain their supervisor's licensure.

Required Courses:

GED 550	Seminar in Curricular Evaluation and Assessment Strategies
GED 642	Case Studies in Supervision
GED 650	Principles and Practices in Supervision
GED 651	Curriculum Development and Evaluation

Teacher of Students with Disabilities Certification Requirements – 21 Credits

Students seeking Teacher of Students with Disabilities Certification on the graduate level must already possess a Bachelor's degree in an academic area and hold a general education certification. The program consists of seven 3 credit-courses, designed to comply with the New Jersey State Code and the Council for Exceptional Children Standards. It is designed for graduate students currently certified in another area seeking special education certification.

Required Courses

GED 601	Nature and Needs of Individuals with Disabilities
GED 604	Behavior Management - Prerequisite: completion of GED 601 or GED 601 taken concurrently
GED 605	Characteristics of Diverse Learners - Prerequisite: completion of GED 601
GED 606	Approaches to Instruction for Special Education - Prerequisite: completion of both GED 601 and GED 605
GED 607	Assessment for Instruction in Special Education - Prerequisite: completion of GED 601 or special education certification
GED 608	Family, Society, and Children with Special Needs (corresponds to the former GED 628) - Prerequisite: completion of GED 601 or GED 601 taken concurrently
GED 620	Inclusive Practices

Master of Arts in Leadership and Public Administration – 30 Credits

Purpose

The Master of Arts in Leadership and Public Administration is designed to prepare participating students for successful advancement into supervisory and management positions, and is offered in a traditional and online (accelerated) format. This program is designed to meet the needs of the public and private sectors to enhance their leadership and management skills. Emphasis is placed on the understanding of quality leadership skills, the interaction of public offices and agencies, and individual development of actual leadership abilities. Through course work and associated research, students explore and gain an understanding of public sector management while mastering the skills necessary for exceptional leaders of the future.

Students develop an understanding of the concepts of and differences between management and leadership; requisite skills for effective personnel management and administration; the ability to perform effective employee evaluations; hands on strategies to design an employee development program; acquire a true understanding of the importance of quality leadership and embrace a desire to become a true leader of people.

Graduate Grading Policy for Leadership and Public Administration

Graduate students must have a final GPA of 3.0 or higher in order to receive a degree

- Any graduate student who receives more than one grade of C (to include C+, C, and C-) will be dismissed from the program. A graduate student who has received one grade of C may appeal to the Academic Review Board to request a determination of eligibility to repeat the course. Academic Review Board decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis.
- Any graduate student who receives a second grade of C (to include C+, C, and C-) will be dismissed from the program; regardless of repeating a course.
- No grades of D will be given (anything lower than a C- is an F).
- A grade of F will result in immediate dismissal from the program.

Program Goals

- Understanding of the concepts of and differences between management and leadership
- Develop requisite skills for effective personnel management and administration
- Develop the ability to perform effective employee evaluations

Through analysis of past marketing mistakes and lost opportunities, insight is provided for strategic marketing planning.

GRADUATE EDUCATION (MA OR MEd)

GED 510 Educational Administrative Theory

3 Credits

This course treats both the external and internal issues related to educational administration. External issues such as interactions among local, state and federal agencies are explored, as well as comparisons on a state-to-state level. Internal issues such as how to set up administrative systems that optimize learning are also explored. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders

GED 550 Seminar in Curricular Evaluation and Assessment Strategies

3 Credits

This course includes the study of appropriate methods of evaluation and assessment of educational programs with emphasis on evaluative/assessment procedures for developers and users, and consideration of materials and effectiveness of programs.

GED 552 The Development and Supervision of Special Education Programs

3 Credits

Since the number of students with disabilities placed in general education classrooms with aides and supports increases every year, this course is essential for any professional planning to be a school principal, supervisor, or director of special education. This course will explore the federal and state rules and regulations that govern special education, financial aspects of special education, and the need to establish programs in the public school setting which include occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech-language services, behavior plans, counseling, transportation responsibilities, nursing services, paraprofessionals, and extended school year opportunities. Other topics will include writing the DIEA and NCLB grants, English as a Second Language programs, and the supervision of this diverse group of professionals.

GED 560 Seminar in Instructional Leadership3 Credits

This course examines the philosophical and psychological attributes of leadership. The theoretical concepts of leadership will then be applied to education by studying the major “formers and reformers” in America’s educational history. Students will be called upon to identify their own leadership attributes and to develop their philosophy of leadership through the application of conceptual and behavioral skills to the resolution of instructional problems through the utilization of simulated situations, role playing, and case study analysis.

GED 601 Nature and Needs of Individuals with Disabilities3 Credits

This course takes an in-depth look at current state and federal legislation that impacts special education. The characteristics and etiology of specific disabilities and placement options for diverse learners is addressed. Field work may be required. Students who hold special education certification and have taken a similar course within the last five years need not take this course, and should substitute a different course in the same category for GED 601.

GED 602 Ethical Issues3 Credits

This course will examine ethical issues that affect an individual with special needs throughout his/her life span. Issues will include confidentiality, placement in the least restrictive environment, and the impact of medical ethics on the child and the family. Students will grapple with questions of professional ethics.

GED 604 Behavior Management3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 (or taken concurrently)

This course examines a variety of models of behavior management for a diverse population. A study of students who exhibit involved and/or disruptive behaviors is included. The purpose of GED 604 is to provide graduate level students who have received teacher certification with a review of behavior management models and research-based strategies for classroom management. The course provides teachers with the knowledge and skills to create learning environments that motivate students through learning and self-management skills along with a repertoire of responsible behaviors. The course considers the role and importance of behavior management for effective teaching and learning.

GED 605 Characteristics of Diverse Learners3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601

This course examines the learning characteristics of individuals with special needs, and how these are manifested in a variety of environments, with a focus on the relationship between individual characteristics, instructional design, and teacher preparation.

GED 606 Approaches to Instruction for Special Education3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 and GED 605

This course explores specific educational techniques and strategies to meet the needs of diverse learners. The focus is on students with mild to moderate disabilities. Students gain practice in assessing student needs, and using this as a basis for choosing, planning, preparing and presenting content, and developing supporting materials.

GED 607 Assessment for Instruction in Special Education3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 or Special Education Certification

The focus of this course is the evaluation of children with special needs. Evaluation is studied from a historical perspective and extends to current issues and trends. Issues surrounding legislation, ethical consideration, validity, reliability, and bias are reviewed and discussed throughout the course. Students will examine standardized tests that measure potential, achievement, and how a student learns. The purpose of this course is to familiarize students with the tests that are used in the classification process.

GED 608 Family, Society and Children with Special Needs3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 (or taken concurrently)

This course addresses the individual with disabilities within the context of the family and society. Lifespan issues, including transition, work, adulthood and medical concerns, will be explored.

GED 615 Collaborative Practices3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED601 or Special Education Certificate

This course covers the purpose and the nature of collaboration, and teaches collaborative skills. Students must demonstrate effective collaborative interactions as evaluated by the instructor in order to pass this course and progress further in the program.

GED 617 Alternative Assessment Practices3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED601 or Special Education Certification

This course examines the role of authentic assessment in the education of the individual with special needs. Students become familiar with current research on this topic and then create, administer, and evaluate alternative assessments.

GED 618 Seminar in Research and Application in Special Education3 Credits

Prerequisite: A minimum of 30 credits completed in the graduate program. GED 697 must be taken in the semester prior to taking this course.

This course is the capstone for the MA in Special Education and is required for graduation.

GED 619 Students, Teachers, Social Policy and the Law3 Credits

This course involves the study of the legal aspects of public education, including the influence of social policy as evident in local, state, and federal legislation. Emphasis will be on the rights of students and the rights/responsibilities of teachers in the schools. Case law will be examined as a regular part of the classroom discussion.

GED 620 Inclusive Practices3 Credits

This course examines the socio-cultural issues, problems, and trends affecting the educational programming of exceptional children. Topics covered include legislation, least restrictive environment, individualized educational programs, curriculum, assessment, and mainstreaming. Techniques and strategies for curriculum selection, modification, adaptation, and implementation are examined. A major focus of the course is on differentiation of instruction to meet the needs of all learners within the inclusion classroom. Field work may be required.

GED 621 A Prologue to Contemporary Educational Practice3 Credits

This course supports the constructivist philosophy of student-centered instruction and relevant, meaningful learning. Students will further develop and apply their understanding of teaching strategies that will serve to maximize the potential of each student through learning models that are specifically organized around content, competencies, communication, collaboration, and connectivity.

Each student will be required to design a thematic, interdisciplinary instructional model organized around a global issue that demonstrates how such issues can be used to define meaningful, worthwhile, and effective learning contexts that address the achievement of core curriculum content standards and meet the needs of a diverse group of learners in the classroom.

GED 622 Collaborative Teaching Concepts3 Credits

The role of the professional educator is changing and collaboration is becoming an increasingly more important component. The course addresses the purpose and scope of co-teaching situations, examines several of the collaborative models that educators engage in, and explores the interpersonal and communicative skills inherent in effective collaboration. This is about general education teachers, special education teachers, and special education support personnel working together in a classroom to meet the needs of diverse learners. Topics covered in this course include various collaboration models, inclusive practices, technology support for students with special needs, working with paraprofessionals, and administrative support for inclusion practices. This course prepares teachers to meet the challenges of the current educational climate in which collaborative teaching is a common occurrence, as well as challenging them to develop solutions to common collaborative teaching concerns.

GED 623 Assessment and Evaluation: Relevant Instructional Design Models 3 Credits

This course is designed to introduce the concepts of student assessment and evaluation, and their importance in the field of education. The course provides a theoretical and practical foundation for teachers with emphasis on the relationship among assessment, teaching, and learning, and the implications for standards-based classroom instruction. Students will become knowledgeable as to current trends in assessment, types of assessments and their characteristics and uses, the testing program in New Jersey, analyzing and using assessment data, developing performance objectives outcomes and assessment plans to evaluate lessons and student learning, and developing a classroom-based assessment program and grading/record-keeping system. The course takes an in-depth look at authentic assessment in the context of learning theory, effective educational practices, and the constructivist classroom. In addition, students will be able to better understand and apply their knowledge of ISTE, NCTM, NCTE, NJCCCS and other important standards of learning.

GED 624 Teachers as Change Agents 3 Credits

This course is designed to introduce the concepts of different types of research and their importance in the field of education. The course will provide a theoretical and practical foundation for teachers with emphasis on the relationship among leadership; action research; teaching and learning; and their implications for classroom instruction. Students will gain further insight into characteristics of effective instruction and further enhance their ability to serve as effective teacher leaders in the Information Age. Course objectives will be organized within three specific areas of study: teacher leadership, action research, and effective instruction in a standards-based model.

GED 625 Curriculum Design and Development 3 Credits

This course examines the nature and development of curriculum, assessment procedures and strategies within a contemporary context. Models for curriculum design will include critical thinking, cooperative learning, constructivist instructional strategies, and brain-based concepts. Performance based tasks and assessments will be an additional focus. Issues relating to 21st century learning environments that include relevance and rigor within the context of authentic intellectual work will be addressed. Students will develop a personal view of how to develop curriculum in the twenty-first century using appropriate research methods.

GED 626 Educational Technology Integration Strategies 3 Credits

This course serves to increase the individual awareness and competencies of teachers and educational leaders as it relates to the seamless integration of technology. The essential characteristics of the 21st century learner and learning environment provide the rationale of the need for effective technology integration strategies. Students are provided the opportunity to use state of the art educational technologies, such as online 3D MUVE (multi-user virtual environments) or simulations, and Web-based e-learning technology applications within their professional practice. Specific functionalities of these innovative technologies will be utilized within an authentic and practical instructional context.

GED 627 Action Research Based Thesis Proposal 3 Credits

This course serves as a pre-requisite to the school based research project and thesis. Students will examine current research on educational change, qualitative, quantitative, and technological methodologies in school-based action research, and various school improvement and change models. Students will learn how to evaluate school programs for continuous improvement, including curricular and instructional practices, professional development, athletics, co-curricular, technology, support services, and community involvement. Students will extend and reinforce their knowledge, skills, and competencies related to professional and educational practice through identification and preliminary research of an authentic school-based problem, which will be developed and completed during the implementation and thesis segment of the program.

GED 628 Special Education Services and Community

3 Credits

This course presents an overview of the special education services and community resources available to the individual with special needs and his/her family. The resources of schools and the facilities of other public and private agencies will be emphasized. Field observations are part of the course requirements (and may be made on weekends and evenings).

GED 629 Applications of Contemporary Educational Practice

3 Credits

Prerequisite: A Prologue to Educational Practice This course supports the constructivist philosophy of student-centered instruction and relevant, meaningful learning. Students will continue to develop and apply their understanding of teaching strategies that will serve to maximize the potential of each child through learning models that are specifically organized around elementary level content, competencies, communication, collaboration, and connectivity. Each student will be required to design a thematic, interdisciplinary instructional model organized around a global issue that demonstrates how such important issues can be used to define meaningful, worthwhile, and effective learning contexts that address the achievement of core curriculum content standards and meet the needs of a diverse group of learners in the elementary classroom.

GED 630 Improving and Assessing Instructional Strategies

3 Credits

This course is designed for full-time professionals who will use job experience to plan and evaluate teaching strategies and materials, develop teaching skills based on knowledge of sound learning theory, and develop a “teaching model” or personal philosophy of teaching. Motivation, enrichment or resources, varied pedagogical methods, deeper understandings, creativity, and accommodation for individual student needs and aptitudes are emphasized.

GED 632 Technology in the Classroom

3 Credits

Examines the role of technology in the classroom, including computers, videotapes, television, and satellite communications. Current and potential resources are covered. Special emphasis focuses on the computer as a teaching-learning tool, with a study of commercially available computer software, and analysis and evaluation of software design and documentation included. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders.

GED 633 The Art and Science of Teaching & Learning: Brain Compatible Practices For the Elementary Classroom

3 Credits

The art and science of teaching is addressed in this course within the context of brain compatible learning environments and strategies at the elementary level. The recent research on learning and the human brain is translated into effective classroom practices and strategies that will serve to meet the needs of all of our young learners. This course provides students with information and practical applications that are supported by extensive research on developmental learning. The biology of readiness, critical and sensitive windows for learning, nutrition and the development of memory space will be addressed and linked to effective instructional practices in the classroom.

GED 634 Innovative Approaches to Literacy Instruction

3 Credits

This course approaches literacy instruction by examining literacy from the cognitive, affective and sociocultural perspectives. This course introduces participants to the latest research on reading and writing instruction. Participants will discover answers to questions and issues relating to readiness, phonological awareness, metacognition, comprehension and critical literacy skills. An in-depth review of five critical factors (phonemic awareness, phonics instruction, vocabulary instruction, fluency instruction, and comprehension strategies) will be provided. Strategies in reading instruction in elementary classrooms and in content areas will be emphasized throughout this program. Students will also gain additional knowledge and competencies in the critical area of information literacy. Specifically, they will discover ways to help elementary age children locate relevant information in an efficient manner, understand and evaluate information and use the information. Clear communication of that information will be emphasized.

GED 635 Literacy as a Process in Integrated Learning

3 Credits

This course is designed to provide an introduction to the theories of literacy, to develop an understanding of literacy instructional methods and strategies, and to assist teachers in individualizing instruction. Literacy in this course is described as developing an integrative ability to use the modalities of reading, writing, listening, viewing, and visually representing across age and grade levels. Emphasis is placed on accommodating literacy assessment including standardized tests, performing assessment, authentic/alternative assessment and portfolio assessment. The importance of interpretation of assessment and the practice of diagnostic teaching to improve literacy is addressed.

GED 636 Inquiry Instruction in the Classroom

3 Credits

In science, inquiry refers to “the activities of students in which they develop knowledge and understanding of scientific ideas, as well as an understanding of how scientists study the natural world.” (National Research Council. 1996. National science education standards.) Once the domain of the science and mathematics disciplines, inquiry-based instruction can also refer to the diverse ways that any discipline can be explored. In this course, you investigate the use of inquiry-based techniques in many curricular and instructional areas. You will explore ideas, issues, and practices in an inquiry-based classroom. As a result of this course, you will be able to apply your knowledge to your own classroom activities by analyzing and evaluating activities, and developing activities and assessments, describing inquiry-based methods to your colleagues, investigating the use of inquiry-based techniques with special needs populations, and recognizing that inquiry-based learning occurs outside as well as inside the classroom.

GED 637 Critical Thinking, Moral Education & Ethics in the Classroom

3 Credits

This course promotes the concepts of critical thinking through an historical and philosophical analyses of the value questions that educators and their students confront. Using the constructs of critical thinking, students will study the teaching of moral value systems, will analyze values clarification, and explore various psychological developmental approaches to character education. Students will also provide critical analysis of some of the contemporary value conflicts and moral dilemmas inherent in present-day educational policies and practices.

GED 638 Action Research Based Thesis Implementation

3 Credits

This course is designed to introduce the concepts of research, specifically applied research/action research, and their importance in the field of education. The course will provide a theoretical and practical foundation for teachers with emphasis on the research; action research; teaching and learning; and their implications for classroom instruction. Students will gain further insight into characteristics of effective research, and further enhance their ability to serve as effective teacher researchers in the Information Age. Models of research that best serve teacher practitioners will be examined and applied. Students will complete a research project within the context of their professional working environment. The emphasis of the project is the improvement of student achievement. The research projects will be supported with a thesis that describes the various chapters of the specific research project.

GED 641 Strategies for Collaborative Teaching: Case Studies

3 Credits

This course is designed to be an interactive seminar using case studies developed by the students. The course focuses on strategies for collaboration and on the skills required of a master teacher for mentoring and/or peer coaching. The building of collaboration skills is the main objective of this class.

GED 642 Case Studies in Supervision3 Credits

This course is designed to apply the theories of educational supervision to the application of educational supervision through the use of case studies. Students are encouraged to develop “real-life” scenarios or problems and then create strategies to handle the scenarios and/or solve the problems in order to maximize teaching effectiveness.

GED 643 Conflict Resolution3 Credits

This course will examine the nature of conflict and develop an understanding that conflict is often necessary to the change process. Emphasis will be placed on the different ways that people deal with conflict. In addition, this course will explore the methods and strategies of conflict resolution; the reasons for conflict; the levels of conflict; and the types of conflict. The strategies for mediation and conflict resolution will be understood, applied, and analyzed. This course will incorporate, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders.

GED 650 Principles and Practices of Supervision3 Credits

This course is designed to provide future school supervisors with the skills knowledge and experience to observe, mentor, collaborate, counsel, and support teachers in the classroom. Several currently researched theories of staff supervision will be used as models to maximize teacher learning and to optimize the learning opportunity for their students. The national INTASC-based standards for beginning teachers, national specialty organizational standards, the Highly Qualified Teacher Requirement of the No Child Left Behind (NCLB) legislation, the P-12 New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards, and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders will provide the foundation for supervisor’s training. Principles and problems of supervision will be explored as well as the varied roles of the supervisor in school districts.

GED 651 Curriculum Development and Evaluation3 Credits

This course is designed to prepare students to become educational leaders and professional curriculum developers. Students will develop an integrated view of curriculum and instruction at the preschool, elementary, and secondary school levels from the perspective of the teacher and the learner. Students acquire an understanding of the interrelationships between current issues in curriculum development, socio-cultural and political influences, and the needs of each constituency in educational systems. The course emphasizes analysis and evaluation of significant curriculum practices, reforms and innovations including the P-12 New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards, the national INTASC standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders. Emphasis is placed on connecting an understanding of curriculum theory to effective supervision of curriculum development and practice.

GED 652 Current Issues in Special Education3 Credits

This course assumes is designed for students who have special education certification and are familiar with special education history, the laws, and characteristics of various disabilities. This course covers the update in the laws and the changes in special education, and will examine those issues that are currently affecting special education teachers in the schools. This course examines special education as an evolving and changing discipline. Students will study current theories, philosophies and practices in the field of special education today.

GED 653 Curriculum Development in Early Childhood and Elementary Education3 Credits

This course develops an integrated view of problems of curriculum and instruction at the early childhood and elementary level including analysis and evaluation of significant curriculum practices. The interrelationships between current issues in curriculum development, socio-cultural and political influences, and the needs of the learner is examined and explored. Emphasis is placed on developing curriculum for early childhood programs that are progressive, considerate of the developmental needs of the younger learner, encourage preparation for academic learning and social communication, and cognizant of the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards. Alternative assessment and early childhood readiness assessment is also examined.

GED 656 Communication and Literacy in Special Education

3 Credits

The focus of this course is on language development, communication and literacy as they relate to children with special needs. Literacy instruction is examined, including the use of specialized reading programs. The course also examines students who are nonverbal and emphasizes communication strategies, including assistive technology, to engage these students in academic and nonacademic tasks. Students study individualized strategies which special educators can use to enhance language development and teach communication.

GED 657 Curriculum Development in Middle and Secondary Schools

3 Credits

The course develops an integrated view of problems of curriculum and instruction at the Middle and Secondary levels including analysis and evaluation of significant curriculum practices. The interrelationships between current issues in curriculum development, socio-cultural and political influences, and the needs of the learner is examined and explored. Emphasis is placed on developing curriculum for middle and secondary school learners that includes consideration of emotional and academic developmental needs of the adolescent learner, encourages school to work transitions, includes college preparatory curriculum development, and evaluates interdisciplinary, disciplinary, and problem focused models. Assessment is addressed relevant to New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards, standardized achievement tests, and alternative assessment.

GED 658 Social Issues for Children with Special Needs

3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 or special education certification

This covers social issues for children with special needs. Topics include social skills training programs, bullying, social interactive skills, peer buddies, and a study of best practices and programs that enhance social interaction skills for children with special needs.

GED 659 Children at Crossroads: Life Issues that Affect Young Lives

3 Credits

Prerequisite: GED 601 or special education certification

This course examines issues that children may cope with as they grow up, from the more common issues of childhood to some of the more intense events that can, and often do, touch young lives. The purpose is for special education teachers to develop skills and strategies to cope effectively in a variety of circumstances and with all students. Course topics include children who are experiencing issues within the family, including death, divorce, and/or poverty as well as children who have been affected by a disaster, natural or otherwise. Adoption and foster families are considered as well. Strategies and resources for educators are emphasized. Service learning is a major component of this course. To this end, graduate students develop and implement a one-shot service learning project for their students. This course meets two hours per week in class. The final hour is designated for out-of-class work on the service learning project, including meeting with course professor.

GED 660 The Principalship

3 Credits

This course deals with practices of educational leadership in K-12 settings. Instructional design leadership and implementation, positioning of the school in the district, human resource issues such as motivation and staff development, professional communication practices, and decision-making strategies, qualitative and quantitative, are explored. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders.

GED 661 Managing Educational Change and Innovation3 Credits

This course develops an awareness and understanding of the dynamics of planned change. Theoretical frameworks from social psychology are utilized to aid students in improving their ability to understand leadership responsibility. Various concepts of managing change and the process of change are considered. Managerial methods such as continuous quality management, site-based management, total quality management, and strategies for adapting principles from them to the schools and the classroom are discussed. In addition, an analysis is made of teacher and supervisory roles in creating instructional change. Techniques for evaluating instructional change are discussed along with strategies for improving human relations and communications in the change process. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders.

GED 670 Field Supervision Internship I6 Credits

Prerequisites: Departmental application and approval

This course is designed to provide students with field-based learning opportunities. Students are assigned to a public school administrator/mentor. Students assume administrative tasks and responsibilities within the school district for the duration of the 15-week semester. College faculty conduct field site visits and consultations with the assigned mentor.

GED 671 Field Supervision Internship II3 Credits

Prerequisite: 24 graduate program credits, cumulative GPA of 2.8 or better and application approval

This seminar course is designed to provide students with field-based learning opportunities. Using the clinical approach, students engage in studies of the theoretical context of supervisory practice, methodological techniques, sociology of supervision, and supervision as leadership in curriculum improvement. 150 hours of field experience are required for this course.

GED 680 Finance and Facilities3 Credits

This course explores the financing of public education. Sources of revenue such as state funding and taxation are dealt with, in addition to grant acquisition and district revenue generating projects. Emphasis is placed on the construction of an average-size district budget and communicating the budget process to stakeholders. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders.

GED 697 Educational Research3 Credits

This is a survey course of empirical and qualitative research design and research methodologies in education as well as survey techniques, case study reports, and ethnography. Common and unique features of philosophic, aesthetic inquiry and historical methods are also considered. This course incorporates, where appropriate, the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards and the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders. This course should be taken in the semester preceding GED 618.

GED 698 Research in Instructional Leadership (Capstone Research Course)3 Credits

The primary focus of this course is research: theoretical, action research, empirical, historical or ethnographic. The student develops a proposal for research under the guidance of the professor and completes the approved research project during this course. Students who are pursuing a New Jersey's Department of Education Supervisor's Licensure are required to develop a research topic within the areas of educational supervision or curriculum development. Students who are pursuing a New Jersey Department of Education Principal's Licensure are required to develop a research topic within the areas of educational leadership, and be cognizant of the New Jersey Professional Standards for School Leaders. This is considered the capstone research course for the Education Department's Master of Arts. To be admitted to the course, students are required to complete GED 697 Educational Research and the Core requirements.

GED 699 Special Topics in Special Education3 Credits

This course focuses, in depth, on one disability each semester. Each semester a different disability is highlighted. Students have the opportunity to research an aspect of the particular disability that is studied. Students may choose to take this course a second time, in lieu of GED 620, as long as the topic for GED 699 is different each time.
