HAVE TO SEE FOR YOURSELF

VISIT

Centenary University

Is Centenary University
the Right University For You?

Come Find

Selecting the right university is a huge decision, so make sure it's an informed decision. The best way to be certain is to see things for yourself in person.

That's precisely why you and your family should visit Centenary University. We hope that you use this as a guide to help you make the most of your time with us.

Out!

When Should You Visit?

Scheduled event days like Open Houses at our main campus and our equestrian center are a great way to learn about our 60+ career-focused degree programs, campus life, the admissions process, and much more. You can have a guided campus tour from one of Centenary's current students. You can meet professors and coaches. You can sit in on a class while your parents attend a financial aid workshop. You can see where students live, eat, study, and relax. You also get to meet lots of other students who are making a decision about college, just like you.

Can't make a scheduled event? No problem. You can visit any day that's convenient for you. Call the Admissions Office and we'll be glad to schedule a visit.

What a GREAT LOCATION!

Centenary University is closer than you think. Our main campus is in a beautifully preserved, Victorian-era neighborhood of Hackettstown, a quiet suburban community in northwestern New Jersey.

From here it's easy to get where you're going. You can be in New York City or at the Jersey Shore in just over an hour. South Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania and southern New England are only a bit farther. The Delaware Water Gap and Poconos are practically in our backyard. Nearby there's easy access to entertainment, shopping, restaurants, movies and more.

Campus Highlights

Seay Administration Building sets Centenary's architectural standard.

Student Activities Center ("the SAC") is where students come to talk, play video games, organize community events, or just unwind.

Trevorrow Hall features totally renovated lab facilities.

Environmental Science Center provides hands-on experience at the Hayford State Fish Hatchery which produces more than 2 million fish per year.

Founders Hall and Bennett-Smith Hall are apartment-style residences for upperclassmen.

Taylor Memorial Library emphasizes e-books, online research databases, and wireless printing stations.

Littell Technology Center features cutting-edge, technology-enhanced classrooms.

Lackland Center has radio and TV facilities, dance and theatre spaces, and the Cyclone Dining Hall.

Reeves Student Recreation Center is home to Centenary's 13 NCAA Division III teams, and all students have access to the fitness facilities and indoor pool.

Reeves Field is our XM Turf playing surface and the site for numerous campus activities.

Centenary University Equestrian Center is a short 10-minute drive from the main campus. This 65-acre facility is home to our Equine Studies Program and Centenary's competition teams.

When you see
Centenary for yourself, when you meet the
friendly people, visit the great facilities and get a feel for the experience,
YOU'LL KNOW.

While You're Here...

Sit In On A Class

It may be quite different than what you're used to. The classroom environment at Centenary is less about one-way lectures and more about two-way conversations.

Grab A Bite

The Cyclone Dining Hall in the Lackland Center is the choice for a complete lunch or dinner. Starbucks in the Seay Building has your favorite beverages and snacks.

Catch A Game

The competition is great and students in the "Clone Zone" are proud and loud. Check game schedules at CentenaryCyclones.com

Ask Anyone

Our campus is a friendly place. Ask anyone you see about their Centenary experience.

Ask

A Student Ambassador

Centenary's Student Ambassadors know exactly what the college decision process is like. They went through it themselves just a couple years ago, and they chose Centenary. Why does that matter to you? Because they're your peers and they want to help you find out what Centenary University is really like, from a student's perspective.

Prospective students like you ask Student Ambassadors questions like these:

- WHAT'S IT LIKE LIVING ON CAMPUS?
- HOW DID YOU MAKE FRIENDS?
- WHAT ARE YOU STUDYING?
- WHAT ARE CLASSES LIKE? HOW BIG?
- ARE PROFESSORS EASY TO TALK TO?
- WHAT'S IT LIKE DOING RESEARCH?
- INTERNSHIP OR FIELDWORK?
- FAVORITE CAMPUS ACTIVITY?
- BEST FOOD IN THE DINING HALL?
- WHAT WOULD YOU DO DIFFERENTLY NOW?
- WHY DID YOU CHOOSE CENTENARY UNIVERSITY?

There must be a question you just can't wait to ask. So don't wait! Send an e-mail to CentUAdmissions@centenaryuniversity.edu with "Ask a Student" in the subject line or call in the afternoon at 800-236-8679. Ask to speak to a Student Ambassador. Find out directly from someone who did choose Centenary.
